

SBMA Soundscape

was created by the Museum's teen interns under the direction of sound artists Bo Bell and August Black.

Eavesdrop on this irreverent, informal, free-wheeling conversation for an alternative stream-of-consciousness guide to the permanent collection. The tour begins near the elevators outside Preston Morton Gallery, and continues in the adjoining Ridley-Tree Gallery (guide on back).

Turn this card over for instructions on how to download the SBMA SOUNDSCAPE podcast to your iPod or MP3 player, or check out the Museum's iPod. (You'll need to leave your driver's license as security.)

SBMA Soundscape

was created by the Museum's teen interns under the direction of sound artists Bo Bell and August Black.

To download the podcast: open iTunes, click podcasts, click "advanced," then "subscribe to podcast." Enter this URL:
<http://sbma.audioblog.com/rss/teens.xml>

Once you have downloaded the podcast to your iPod, you should listen to the tracks by accessing them under the "Music" menu, rather than the "Podcast" menu, to ensure consistent sequential playback.

